

DANGERS OF HOMOSEXUALITY

David C F Wright PhD

I was first made aware of the problems of homosexuals when I read about Will Young.

Will Young was born in January 1970. He is described as a pop star and an actor.

Several years ago, he admitted that he was homosexual.

In Strictly Come Dancing 2016, he left the show after a few weeks for various reasons.

He did not get on with his female professional partner not liking the authority of a woman.

He was suffering from stress.

He had an alcohol addiction.

He was addicted to pornography.

He is currently mentally unwell suffering from conditions often associated with homosexuals and we hope he makes a full recovery.

Lest we be criticised for highlighting a pop star, in the world of 'classical' music there are homosexuals also with extreme life styles. The French composer, Maurice Ravel, was an extreme gay and an atheist as many homosexuals are. He often wore women's clothing, had affairs with Spanish men, collected pornography and had a sordid affair with the Spanish composer, Manuel de Falla. One can only come to the conclusion that Ravel had mental problems and was mentally ill.

Tchaikovsky was gay and tried marriage which was disastrous. A lot of his music is decidedly effeminate. He suffered from severe depression particularly on the death of his mother and on the death of the composer, Nikolai Rubinstein. Depression was also caused by his homosexuality which caused him severe physiological trauma. He was often an emotional wreck and was both physically and mentally weak.

Before we proceed, there is the matter of suicide among gay people which is alarming. They are three times more likely than heterosexuals to commit suicide although the risk factor is 14 times more than heterosexuals. Gay young people attempting suicide actually wanted to die. Up to 45% of transgender people definitely wanted to die. Lesbian women are more likely to commit suicide.

Suicide is caused by mental disorders, depression, bipolar disorders, schizophrenia, personality disorders, substance abuse, financial problems, relationships and bullying.

A lot of men love male company even when sex is not involved. They are consequently often dismissive of male friends who are not gay but been good friends. I know a gay man who has had a male lodger for over 25 years and this lodger often walks around nude in front of this gay man.

The X Factor is said to be a talent show for pop singers. On the internet, we can see that the panel of judges are sometimes drunk on duty and Simon Cowell is often objectionable. Ryland Clark came to some prominence for winning this show and you have only to look at him to see that he is gay. On one show in 2016, there was discussion about doors and Cowell said of Clark, I thought you liked back doors, a crude gay joke. Clark has married Dan Neal and sometimes calls himself Ryland Clark-Neal.

Some gay people are referred to as being camp. To look at them and see their manner shows an effeminate or exaggerated posture and style.

Judge Robert Rinder has a successful television show yet he is not a judge but a barrister. He is gay and married to a man called Seth Cummings. He is also a contestant on Strictly Come Dancing and is very fit but his facial expressions when dancing are camp, exaggerated and off putting.

He may explain that his silly faces are down to his enjoyment of the dances but the professionals enjoy their dancing without silly faces. The other contestants do not display silly faces. Rinder has said that when he watches his performances back he cringes at his facial expressions

On the other hand I have friends who are gay but act in a normal way and many are very kind people with admirable compassion.

Left wing politicians are often anti-semitic and strongly pro Arab. Arabs and other Muslims hate homosexuals and murder them. Pictures in support of this are available on the internet. Some are hanged and some are thrown to their death.

I cannot understand why politicians in the Labour party hate Jews and seem to support murdering Arabs. Jeremy Corbyn is strongly pro Arab.

Elton John was born in Pinner in 1947 and has become a very successful musician in his own styles. He started a campaign against AIDS which has also become very successful. He has received a knighthood possibly due to his devotion to Princess Diana.

In the 1960s, he became engaged to Linda Woodrow but married Renate Bluael in 1964 which some have opined that this was to hide his homosexuality.

In 1993, he began his relationship with David Furnish and they were married in 2014. In a Television interview of 30 minutes Elton John used the f word over 45 times. He accused Jesus Christ of being both gay and a sexual deviant and wants to ban all religion. Christians and other religions were outraged at what he said.

Why are so many gay people hostile to Christianity and religion in general and atheists ? They have the notion that the Bible condemns gay sex and that God, whom they do not believe in, hates homosexuals. They complain that the majority of Christians and the church condemn gays. As we shall see, gays spread the HIV/AIDS virus which has resulted in millions of deaths and this fact produces hate. Some churches today accept homosexuality.

There are many celebrities who are gay and died of AIDS such as Freddie Mercury in 1991, the actor Anthony Perkins in 1992, Rock Hudson in 1985, Robert Reed in 1992, Denham Elliot in 1992, Liberace in 1987 and Stephen Stucker in 1986.

All of these deaths could have been avoided if these people were not gay.

Up to 2009, there were 30 million deaths of gays due to AIDS and 4 millions were children. That is epidemic proportions and all these deaths were avoidable.

There appears to be homosexuality among some animals such as rams and exotic birds.

But to return to human beings.

The American TV chat host Ellen DeGeneres, who is now 58, 'came out' as a lesbian in 1997 to the dismay of her fans. In 2004, she began a relationship with the attractive actress Portia de Rossi to the dismay of thousands of men who adored her.

Why are so many male dancers homosexual ? It is wrong for some to assert that they all are gay.

There has been a lot of violence and other crimes against gays. This is totally unacceptable and while we are not making excuses there are many people who find gay sex acts repugnant and nauseating. The Bible condemns it and many accept that this is for health and hygiene reasons which reasons are commendable.

The anus was not made for sexual intercourse and for a man to insert his penis into another man's anus and thrust in it is abhorrent, unnatural and can and does lead to the fatal condition of AIDS which has already exceeded epidemic proportions. Some have crudely said that anus intercourse is pushing someone's excrement uphill.

Some parents are worried about their children having sex for fear of getting AIDS.

Homosexuality is still illegal in 76 countries in the world. It is difficult to say how many countries there are in the world but we can say that in the United Nations there are 193 countries and so 40% outlaw homosexuality.

I never liked the music of Benjamin Britten but when I found out about his lifestyle I hated him. His work Our Hunting Fathers is said to be about man's relationship with animals but it is about bestiality. He was a coward and fled to the USA with his boy friend Peter Pears to prevent being called up for active service in World War II. He would, and did, dump friends if they disagreed with him. His sexual perversions with children mainly teenage boys was criminal. He would swim with them all being naked and sleep with them as well. He was a pervert and a pedophile. A pedophile is someone who has an insatiable attraction to children for sexual purposes. A pervert is someone interested in unnatural sex. Is anal sex unnatural?

Elgar was bisexual.

What do homosexuals do? The list below gives detail but it does not mean that all gays do all these things:

- Anal sex
- Oral sex
- Urine sex
- Fisting sex
- Use of sex toys
- Enemas
- Torture sex
- Public sex and orgies
- Sex with mirrors
- Sex in public places such as public conveniences and open air
- Eating faeces
- Swallowing semen
- Personal masturbation

In addition to AIDS 10% of gays contract hepatitis B and 7% hepatitis A.

Many gays of both sexes admit excessive masturbation.

I cannot understand why any sane or decent person would perform these acts.

It cannot be said that what gays do is exclusively their business and no one else's. They spread disease and kill innocent people. There are many cases where infected semen from a homosexual discharged in a swimming pool has stuck to an innocent person and caused illness.

What lesbians do is not so clearly defined. Many use strap on male genitalia, they suck and kiss their partner in their private parts and use their fists to stimulate genitalia.

What we have discovered is that homosexuality has caused epidemics of HIV/AIDS and other diseases which has caused millions of deaths including innocent children.

Homosexuality is dangerous.

It is unhygienic.

It can lead to bestiality, pedophilia and other unnatural acts.

There is a high percentage of suicides among gays.

Homosexuality can and often does lead to porn addiction, drug addiction and alcohol addiction

It generates mental conditions and is considered to be a mental condition in itself.

We can understand the repugnance shown to homosexuals but do not approve of the violence meted out to them.

Many assert that they are born gay and so it is not their fault. There is no medical evidence to prove that but there is much speculation. There are many vehement, angry and irrational web sites claiming that people are born gay. The venom that comes out of these writings is overpowering and reeks at guilt in being gay as some homosexuals have admitted. Others claim that HIV/AIDS came out of a laboratory to cull the population but why is it targeted almost exclusively on homosexual? It is claimed that being gay is a matter of genetics but that is disproved. A woman can have twins from the same conception and when the twins grow up, one is heterosexual and the other becomes gay. How do we explain that? Men who claim that they were born gay, marry a wife and have children. What about the men who recover from being gay and become clean as the expression says? Surely this is a matter of personal choice. I know a man who has been clean for years and now lives a normal healthy life.

A large majority of gay men have said that they are ashamed and embarrassed about being gay and have sought to hide it. There are clinics to assist gays to abandon homosexuality which has proved successful in a lot of cases and adds weight to the argument that being gay is a matter of personal choice.

Many gays will not go in for treatment because they do not want to admit the shame of being gay. Again it is a matter of choice. People choose to be gay and some choose to remain gay. There is overwhelming evidence to support this.
